Page 50---- Present; Messrs; Nathaniel Knotts, John Bracco, Henry Casson, John Pratt, Chr. Cross no th, vestrymen, Hen Thompson, regr. Solomon Downes, Hen Wright Pratt church wardens.

Daniel Thetley and Ann Martingle appeared agreeable to order of the 5th instant and were concinced by the vestry that an information had been made against them of having cohabited in a lewd manner who both denied the fact and did excuse themselves therefrom with which the vestry was satisfied and dismissed them.

Ordered that the register give notice to Burton Falconer and Catharine McKenny to appear before the vestry the first Tuesday in July next.

At a special vestry held at the parish church of St Johns on the 2nd Tuesday in July being the 10th of the month 1759. present; Messrs Nathaniel Knotts, Henry Casson, John Pratt, vestrymen, clo Downes, church wardens, Hen; Thompson regr.

The vestry proceeded to enquire into the number of Bachelors in this parish upwards of 20 & 5 years of age, the following persons were deemed to be worth viz; Jas London, 100 l, William Webb, 200, Nathaniel Wright, 200, Michael Fletcher, 200, Jonathan Nicols applied to the vestry whether he should pay the Rev. Mr Salter the Governor order of the 10th Nov 1757, which was in the following words, to wit; Gentlemen; (Page 51)
As I understand that some doubts have arisen as to the legality of my paying the 30 lb poll of this parish to the Rev Mr Salter in virtue of his excellency the governor's order on me to that purpose, I beg you will let me know your sense of that matter and that you will please to signify on your record how far you think the said order concurs with or deviates from the law in such case made and provided.

To the gentlemen of the vestry and church warden of St. John's parish, signed I, am Gentlemen,

Your most obedient servant Jona Nicols sheriff.

The vestry's answer was as follows; Viz; In answer to the preceding, application, the vestry conceives in the first place that his excellency, did not intend the abovementioned order for a regular induction because had he viewed it in that light, he well knew that the law required the sheriff to pay the whole salary to the incumbent, without any reserve made by or direction and command from the ordinary whatever.

But notwithstanding this, the vestry is still of opinion, that the said order should be duly honoured, for the law-

seems but to have three points in view, where it directs the 40 lb poll to be levied and paid away to the established clergy of this Province, its first intention is clearly to raise such sums of tobacco, as may probably induce good ministers to come among us, its and is as evidently to restrain them from holding too many parishes and its third is somewhat more obscurely to oblige them to produce sufficient testimonials in writing of the ordinary consent, ere they shall receive the tobacco so raised therefore the vestry is fully convinced, that the words indented presented or appointed has no moral signification, but this, that every minister must obtain the evident approbation of the Governor for the time being before he can enjoy the benefit of any living in this Province.

From this plain state of the case it follows of consequence, that the order referred to above, has the real substance and all the essentials, and wants only a delusive shadow or spacious form, of what critics themselves would esteem a complete appointment for it clearly evinces that Mr Walker has his excellency's hearty consent, and that he is only to enjoy the living while he performs the ministerial duties of the parish.

The vestry is further of opinion that such measures as these should be winked at rather than opposed and that it might be well for this irreligious province if all it's ministers were held in such suspense, and had their livings dependent on their behaviour such a check upon them would doubtless amend their external conduct, and greatly obstruct such baneful examples as many vile wretches of that sacred(but greatly profan'd) order, now sets before the world.

However, those salutary views may be exploded by a fictitious Marylander, yet the vestry is well assured, they exactly agree with the echoing wisdom of our mother country, for great Britain does not only cheerfully connive at such beneficial informalities as these, but also freely suffers the king contrary to law, to abridge the liberty of his subject both as men and traders, by often forcing great numbers of the former into his service, and by greatly impeding the progress of the latter thro frequent embargoes, in short, as humane laws must still be imperfect and cannot reach every contingency, such gainful stretches of power in the chief magistrate seems absolutely necessary for the general welfare of the people and the weakness or design may call such presidents dangerous, yet the vestry views them in a different light, and thinks them both wise and wholesome, because the laws of w^ever state are undoubtedly the standing rule of action to both the Governours and the governed therefore when the deviations of either are hurtful to the community, the former by proper methods may be brought up to, and the latter try'd and convicted by the legal standard of their country, when men act apparently better than th law directs, the vestry presumes their conduct should be approved and when they act evidently worse, that their pernicious wanderings may and should be reduced to the first criterion as soon as possible.

Burton Falconer appeared agreeable to order but without Catherine McKenny and was dismissed with an admonition from the vestry.

At a special vestry held at the parish church of St. John's on Monday the 10th of Sept 1759. Present; Messrs Nathaniel Knotts -Henry Casson, John Pratt, Xphr Cross Routh, vestrymen, Sollo Downes, church wardens, Hen Thompson, regr.

Inclosed you have my account with the vestry of St. John's which I hope upon examination will be found to be right; I have examined over my list of insolvent taxes and have not charged the vestry with any the court upon a strict scrutiny did not allow; therefore, I hope my account will give satisfaction to the vestry.

By my account there appears to be balance of 52 L tobacco due to me from you as you have a copy of my account if there be a mistake in it. so kind as to point it out to me; I hope you'll think it to be necessary to settle this old matter. I am with respect to Mrs Mayne
